If ever a home reflected the charm and personality of its owners...it is the magnificent new Palm Springs residence of Lucy and Desi Arnaz.

And this accomplishment was not by chance...for seldom have two people put more effort and careful thoughts into the preliminary planning and building of a home.

Desi was determined that this home should not only be of good design and sound construction, both inside and out...but it must be a place to really live in...a practical place for himself and family with every convenience necessary for pleasant, comfortable living in the variable desert climate.

Lucy was naturally interested in all these details too...but her primary concern was in creating livable interiors reflecting style, good taste and beauty. Because of her wonderful selections of colors, textures, fabrics, furniture and accessories...the interiors glow with a radiance which makes it a perfect (and practical) background for the charming Arnaz family.

It is only natural with all this critical planning that Plantation Shutters should be selected to be used throughout the house. The superior materials and craftsmanship met the rigid quality requirements of Desi...while the superb finishes and expert styling helped Lucy in creating the wonderful effects in this exciting new home.
